

AID 2 Write Up

Part 2:

Muller's method shows that it has the fastest convergence of the three methods, with convergence after just one iteration. All Roots are within at least .01 of each other, as is expected from our determined tolerance, with a smallest true error from mullers method, followed by newton raphson and bisection method.